

22nd February, 2026 CE.

To,
Hannah Fry.

Hello. I guess, yesterday was your birthday, and today is my birthday, and five days later, it will be the birthday of Chelsea Clinton.

Generally, I had seen the movie => Mickey 17 (2025), last year, and it was neat !! and I feel that the character was relatable.
And I remember, yourself, from 2005-06-07, while 52-factorial was being talked about by some Physics_PhD_students (wrong-memory-?).

Dustin Monke of The Dickinson Press described those born in the early 1980s as having early adulthoods being impacted by the events of the September 11 attacks and the Iraq War.

Generally, I was writing to say that, quite recently, I had read an article by First Lady Mrs. Hillary Rodham Clinton.
And regarding feminism, and such, I guess, I am looking at things, from a viewpoint similar to that of an “—expendable—”.

I did not have mother since age_five, 1987, and . . . What to know about kids mental health

This podcast mentions → two adults;; and I did not have anyone. So, about age_40_plus-plans, I had chosen to concern myself with my s_u_p_w work (batch_1997), about Nuclear Disarmament, and completed it before age_40. I guess, yourself will be age_50, in 2034 CE.

Sometime, when I was in seventh-class, we were walking back home after school, and some such quote by, President Bill Clinton, got me into trouble => “I learned a lot from the stories my uncle, aunts, and grandparents told me: that no one is perfect but most people are good; that people can't be judged only by their worst or weakest moments; that harsh judgements make hypocrites of us all; that a lot of life is just showing up and hanging on; that laughter is often the best, and sometimes only response to pain.”

The batchmates had got hold of a similar quote from the newspapers, that => “. . . most people are trying to do good by their families . . . “

And, I was telling them that the step-mother didn't really care, but, others did not have a similar-life-experience.

They had families that cared, and they weren't growing up as an expendable.

And I was supposed to write a letter, to President Bill Clinton, explaining that his quote is wrong . . . I guess, this is that letter.

Generally, the notion of 'structural-problem' (and coaching problem) got documented in a book by Colin Fisher.

And I am looking forward to the new book (March 10, 2026) by Leanne ten Brinke.

So, about the quote by President Bill Clinton, I had a structural-problem, about mother-s-day participation.

Generally, after moving to Australia, I will be able to participate among communities, where 15+ married-males speak in English_language_at_home. And recently, anthony-albanese-and-jodie-haydon got married =>

<https://www.thehindu.com/news/international/australian-prime-minister-albanese-becomes-first-ever-to-marry-in-office/article70339952.ece>

In the bigger picture, I had to find a mother-s-day participant, who cared about me . . . and after 2003, I had changed that task to finding an abridgement-day-participant, of the same religion (atheism). And => Julia Gillard, fits the bill.

So, in the bigger picture, the quote by President Bill Clinton, -- might be relevant to a family structure, where my concern is about participating with Julia Gillard, involving abridgement-day (the 5th of May).

Also, in 2004-05-06, I had come across some similar content by Helen Fisher =>

“ . . . been maintained, in these long-term romances with these other men, that, why marry him? You know, if I die, I'm gonna give him whatever I got. I'm dedicated to the partnership. It's socially visible to the people around me. Why marry them? . . . ”

And I guess, back then, she was getting paid by match-dot-com, and I was going through some similar published opinions, by her.

And yourself (Hannah Fry) was also, involved in giving some talk (and happen to be divorced now ??).

About 14th February participation, recently, I had read a book by Justin Garcia, and it was neat. It covers, the topic of gibbons, as well, so I guess, I would mention it to Julia Gillard, also. (The Aumann's Agreement theorem was documented by Steven Pinker in his recent book).

The Evolutionary Roots of Love, Sex, and Jealousy

And yesterday night, I was watching the first episode of the “Small Prophets” sitcom, and it had Michael Palin using a Rube-Goldberg machine. Generally, I hope your kids are doing fine. They should be able to access a proof of geometric-series-convergence here =>

OK, all the best, bye.
